VOL. 46 — No. 11

BOXING TOURNAMENT FOR BAY ST. LOUIS ON FRIDAY AND SAT. NIGHTS

March 19 and 20, Next Week End, to Witness Interesting High School Athletics—Sixteen Separate Class Divisions Carded.

Practically on the heels of the recently highly successful basketball tournament, held in Bay St. Louis, the high school boxing tournament for the local district will take place in this city at the Bay Hi Gym on Friday and Saturday nights of next week, March 19 and 20th, beginning at the usual hour.

Teams definitely entered are Bay High, St. Stanislaus, Gulfport High, Gulf Coast Military Academy, Woodville High.

Teams expected to enter, Meridian High, Parkinston High, Crosby High and Gloster High with other possibilities.

Indications, according to popular opinion, are that Gulfport is favored to retain the championship, however, it is confidently expected that Stanislaus and Bay High will push Gulfport. That is one of the high spots of the tourney, from the local angle and will easily feature the tourney. There is another strong sentiment and freely expressed, that G. C. M. A. may well be regarded as dark horse.

There will be sixteen classes of weight divisions, as follows: 65-lb., 71-lb., 77-lb., 83-lb., 90-lb., 105-lb., 112-lb., 118-lb., 126-lb., 135-lb., 145-lb., 155-lb., 175-lb. and heavyweight.

Belt buckle awards for each champion are offered. Two-team trophies will be presented—one for first place and the second to the runner-up. Trophies are on display at Breath's Haberdashery, Beach head of Main street.

That the attendance each night will be large there is no doubt. This tournament will be one of unusual interest and fans will be glad of the opportunity of witnessing such an array of boxers in various classes and from different schools and localities.

Observing the Feast Of St. Joseph at the Gaspard Maurigi Home

Following a custom many years, Mr. and Mrs. Gaspard Maurigi will again observe the feast of St. Joseph, occurring Friday of next week, March 19, at their home, 216 Main street. The public is invited to visit the specially prepared altar for the occasion. The home will be open and ready for reception Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock and continuing until the next morning (Friday) 11 o'clock. Mrs. Maurigi solicits flowers for the altar—to be sent in advance.

Gulfport's Women's Club Goes on Record "Agin" Supreme Court Plan

The Gulfport Woman's Club, Wednesday, went on record as opposed to President Roosevelt's supreme court program and voted to send letters to Mississippi's senators and President Roosevelt protesting the proposed supreme court changes.

NEW ORLEANS 219 YEARS AGO.

The Times-Picayune supplies this thumbnail sketch of historical New Orleans.

New Orleans is now in its 219th year. It was founded in 1718 by Sieur Bienville. With 50 men, Bienville settled at what is now Jackson Square and began erecting log huts early in 1718.

The progress of the young colony was delayed in the following spring when a crevasse, or break, occurred in the river bank near that point and the pioneers were morooned on the solid-river bank.

This failed to deter the growth of the city, however, which has continued to forge ahead and has earned the oft-repeated title of "The City Indestructible."

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET

Regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, will be held on Tuesday afternoon, March 16, at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Kenneth Thompson (the former Wisner home) to which all members and other friends are asked to be present.

STREET PAVING PROGRAM

Town of Ocean Springs began paving its principal streets in a $87,000 WPA project which will take in all of the principal streets and for which the city is raising $1100 to meet the appropriation for the government.

COURT HOUSE READY

Renovated Interior Finished For Circuit Court Session Monday.

When Circuit Court for Hancock county convenes Monday morning, visitors and other who have not seen the interior of the building will find quite a transformation. Walls that never saw paint since the structure came into being over a quarter of a century ago are now properly treated and finally finished and all woodwork done over.

The handsome exterior has always challenged general admiration and the citizens of Hancock county always pointed with pride to their courthouse.

The work is done in thorough fashion—in most approved manner demanded by the stamp of competent craftsmanship. Recently the east side offices were completed and the west side offices were practically finished. Due to the rush of work incidental to tax collecting time, the sheriff's office was treated last.

This necessary renovation was recommended from time to time and the Board of Supervisors, awaiting a more propitious time for the expenditure finally gave the necessary instruction to go. Public, like private property, must be maintained at all times for its preservation and appearance and in the last analysis as a factor of economy.

A splendid job has been accomplished and it seems fitting the work be finished for Monday when the "big court" will convene and many visitors from home and away will have occasion to visit.

ROTARY TO PRESENT MINSTREL

Show April 27 With C. J. Gordon as Master of Production—Half Proceeds To School.

Since the announcement first appeared in last week's Echo to the effect the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club was to present a minstrel performance April 27, considerable interest has been manifested on all sides.

It is pointed out that a long time has elapsed since a performance of the kind was presented in this city and since this is fact Mr. C. J. Gordon, executive producer and originator of many of the features, promises to more than make up for lost time, so to speak.

This interest is outstanding and encourages the different players to further interest in their respective parts. There are a number of people in our city possessed with good voices and Mr. Gordon is selecting further quota of this talent and a phone call to No. 367 will bring details and further information. Mr. Gordon says no one need have any hesitancy in proffering assistance to the cause of helping a benefit the net proceeds of which will be split fifty-fifty with the Rotary Club and Bay St. Louis High School.

For this particular occasion, in addition to the regular instruments, there will be five violins, used as a whole for the first time in the history of the Bay St. Louis theater, and vocal numbers will be accompanied by the full orchestra and not by the piano only as formerly.

Tickets for the affair will soon be offered for sale. It is expected the Bay Hi auditorium will be crowded to capacity.

RELIEF

Harry L. Hopkins, WPA head, says a great many people will always have to get at least part of their income from public benefits and that a long-range social security program is a necessity that will be "very substantial" in cost.

"SAFETY—SHALL WE CONTINUE TO KILL?" SUBJECT DISCUSSED

At Regular Monthly Meeting Central School PTA—Benefit Dance For Tonight.

The Bay Central P. T. A. held its regular monthly meeting at the school, Tuesday, March 9th at three o'clock.

Mrs. Si Shipp opened the meeting with prayer.

The president's message was read by Mrs. Baker.

A resolution from the Bay Rotary club was read in which it was stated a policeman has been detailed at the Spanish Trail Crossing, through their efforts, to insure greater safety for the school children.

Mrs. J. B. Goldman was elected chairman of the nominating committee for next year's officers. Mrs. Carl Olson and Mrs. Townsend Wolfe are the other members of the committee elected.

The birthday silver tea of the Hancock County Library was announced for Friday afternoon, March 12th, at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Theodore Robin announced the P. T. A. dance which will be given in the new gymnasium on St. Joseph's night, Friday, the nineteenth from ten until two. Owing to the boxing match will be held earlier in the evening this hour was decided upon.

The program for the afternoon was on "Safety—Shall We Continue to Kill?" Mrs. Gus Terry, program chairman, and Mr. Grady Perkins, City commissioner led the discussion in which several of the pupils and teachers participated. A poster on "Safety" designed by Marion Chapman, and one on "Recreation," designed by Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, were exhibited. Pamphlets on safe driving were distributed after the meeting.

The first grade won the prize for having the most mothers present. An excellent crowd was in attendance.

Corsages of fragrant sweet peas were presented each member by Gaynel Gex, as they entered.

At the social hour following, St. Patrick's decorations were used throughout the Home Science room. Baskets of snowy dog wood lent a spring like touch, also.

Carleton Howze dressed as St. Patrick assisted in serving the guests. The grade mothers who were hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Traub, Mrs. John Howze, Mrs. Walter Gex, and Mrs. Nobby Dick, assisted by Miss Celine Ashcraft.

Interesting Old Forts New Orleans and Gulf Coast Vicinity

Near the beaten paths around New Orleans lie relics of ancient defenses.

Most of these ramparts never were under the fire of enemy guns, but all played their parts in protecting New Orleans and the surrounding countryside, says the N. O. Times-Picayune.

Some of the forts are fallen into ruin now and grass grows between the stones of the floor and vines twist up the columns. The moats that served as protection in the days before airplanes are choked with water hyacinths, and the vast walls that were once impregnable to the heaviest artillery are crumbling in silent desertion. Others, however, have been restored. But to the romantically inclined visitor to New Orleans, the old forts offer the appeal of age and decadence and charm.

The most interesting of these old ruins are those of Fort McComb, near the mouth of Chef Menteur; Fort Livingston, just this side of Grand Isle; Fort St. Philip, 80 miles below New Orleans; Fort Pike, on the Right; Spanish Fort, just outside the city, and Fort Massachusetts on Ship Island, 13 miles off Biloxi, Miss.

PARTY FOR WAVELAND COMMUNITY CLUB.

Waveland Community Club will give a lotto card party on Thursday night of this week, proceeds of the affair to be donated to the school lunch fund, which provides lunches for the children of the public school. Warm meals are served at low cost, nutritious and are substantial as well. The Waveland lunch room, it is stated, is about the best equipped in the country.

REFUNDING

The Treasury will refund about $800,000,000 in maturing securities on the 15th but will put out no issue for "new money," according to an announcement by Secretary Morgenthau. This will be the first financing period since the depression began in 1930, that the Treasury has passed a quarterly financing period without borrowing money in excess of the securities maturing.

HEAD OF COLLEGE IS SPEAKER

Brother William is Program Speaker Bay St. Louis Rotary—New Members To Club.

Receiving rapt attention by one of the largest attendances recently accorded, Bro. William, president St. Stanislaus College, spoke before the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday noon at the regular weekly luncheon, Hotel Weston. His subject was "The Wayward Boy."

He was formally introduced by Rotarian Alden Mauffray, a graduate of St. Stanislaus college, who had been at one time a pupil of the speaker.

Bro. William was the program speaker for the week and this was the second time since his coming here some four years ago that he was invited to address the local civic club.

He divided his lecture into three ideas, as he termed it—the supernatural, professional and social idea. He laid special stress in the belief that hereditary and environment played an important part in the development of the boy; latter the boy grew away from the material slant and it was by contact and proper contact he developed the social being that meant for his future. The boy was a being of many complexes but by the proper environment and association he finally found himself and for the better. The talk was quite interesting and presented in that manner for which Bro. William is known as a scholarly and forceful speaker.

New members attending their first meeting are Robert L. Camors, and Henry Kirkpatrick, Bell Telephone Co., Bay St. Louis, also Emmett Lott, of Kiln, who had his membership from elsewhere transferred to the local club. Visitors included James Terrill and the Rev. Dr. Aken, both of Pass Christian, and Sam Boyd, of Columbia, Mississippi.

DELTA OFFICERS GET ELECTRIC LIGHT METER JUMPERS—PUNISHED

Alleged Violators Have Methods of Procuring Current Without Pay.

Municipal authorities under the leadership of the water and light commissioner, John Carmon, have begun a campaign against alleged fraudulent use of electric current in the city, which has resulted in a score of arrests.

Violators use various methods to steal electricity, which officials say amounts to thousands of dollars. One of the chief methods is that of "plugging in" so meters will not register the amount of current used. Some alleged violators have special systems for getting current without cost, according to municipal officials.

Fines for violations have been numerous in city court. Second offenders are given the maximum of the law, according to Judge Rodney Brooks, which is $100 fine and three months' imprisonment.

Plugging into meters to get free electric current is going to be stopped, Brooks declared.

Garmon said municipal losses as a result of fraudulent use of electricity have been enormous. An additional police officer has been added to break up the practice.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Ruminating through the files of The Echo, Ten Years Ago, we find many items of local interest, weddings, etc. Russell Ladner, son of Judge Alchide Ladner, and Miss Beulah Birch, were married March 19th, Judge J. A. Breath performing the civil ceremony. Russell at the time was captain of the local baseball team, an enthusiast for sports and the outdoors. He resides in Mobile where he is manager of the Metcalf Pants Company, happy and doing well.

McDONALD ROSE GARDEN.

While the Bay-Waveland section of the Coast boasts of many gardens of unusual beauty, and so many of the rose variety, the beach dwelling of Major W. A. McDonald presents at the present time a rose garden of unusual beauty. Color, quality and quantity are combined. It is not unusual to see so many blooming roses of finer variety blooming so profusely. Major McDonald has possibly the largest collection of fine roses in this section. At his place of business a number of climbers are blooming in "bounteous beauty."

DURANT INDUSTRIAL BONDS FAIL OF SALE IN OPEN MARKET

Validity of Bonds Have Not As Yet Been Passed Upon By Supreme Court.

First bonds under Governor White's program to balance agriculture with industry in Mississippi failed to attract a single bid.

An issue of $25,000 was offered for sale at Durant last Tuesday, it was reported authoritatively, and no bid was received for purchase of the bonds. Sale of the bonds was to provide funds for the city of Durant to procure a factory under the governor's program.

Efforts were steadily still under way for the sale of the bond issue and early success was anticipated. The bonds were validated by the chancery court and have received the approval of a noted bond attorney of St. Louis.

It was learned, however, that virtually all the major bond firms have failed to show interest in the bonds because they have not received validation at the hands of the Mississippi Supreme Court.

Such validation may be resorted to, it was reported, if no purchaser is found within a short time for the Durant issue.

The upstate city was the first in the state to qualify under the governor's program for the issuance of bonds to secure an industrial plant.

Tax Representative To Visit Bay City Today To Help the Public

W. R. Smith, field representative Mississippi State Tax Commission, was a visitor to Bay St. Louis Monday and informed The Echo that he will be on hand at the Court House in Bay St. Louis, Friday, March 12, 1937, from 8:30 A. M. to 5 P. M. to assist taxpayers in filing their 1936 income tax returns.

All taxpayers who desire to avail themselves of this service are requested to bring with them all the facts and figures necessary for the preparation of their returns. There will be no charge for this service.

BALLENTINE STREET RESIDENT BURIED AT WAVELAND THURSDAY

Mrs. Mary Carver, Aged 64 Years, Dies After Two Week's Illness.

Mrs. Mary Carver, widow of Etienne Carver, native of Waveland, aged 64, died at her residence at 211 Ballentine street, Wednesday morning, March 10, 1937, at 7:15 o'clock, following an illness of two weeks. She resided with her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Carver Raymond, an only child. Her husband died some years ago and was well known about town. She had been a resident of Bay St. Louis the past thirty years.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Etienne Ladner, native of Waveland, and the late Delphine Nicaise, native of Kiln.

Last rites took place Thursday afternoon, 3 o'clock, with the Rev. Leo F. Fahey officiating, interment in the family burial plot at Waveland cemetery, with many attending the funeral and a profusion of flowers from friends manifested sympathy and paid tribute to the memory of this good woman. Her death has brought sorrow to both communities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland where she was well and widely known.

JOS. J. FLEMING, 86, DIES.

Joseph J. Fleming, 86 years old, died at his home in Benton in Honey Island. The body was taken to the Turtle Skin cemetery, south of Nicholson, for burial. The Rev. S. P. Powell, Baptist minister of Pearl River county, officiated. For the past 30 or more years Mr. Fleming lived in Honey Island, where he was engaged in farming. He leaves two sons and one daughter, John Fleming, Nicholson; Mrs. Joe Kellar and Calbert Fleming, Benton, La.

GOVERNORS APPEAL

Alarmed over the prospects of cuts in WPA workers the governors of six states last week appealed to President Roosevelt, declaring that local units of government cannot bear the cost of relief to employables. It had been understood that WPA rolls would be cut 600,000 between February and June and the chief executives of industrial States insist that the workers should not be removed until they can be absorbed by private industry, as otherwise the States would have to extend relief.

TO IMPROVE CITY HALL INTERIOR

Commission Plans to Renovate Building—To Improve and Paint.

Necessitated by the inroad of time, the Board of Mayor and Commissioners are planning for a complete renovation of the interior of the City Hall. Some time back the exterior received necessary repairs and painting, a good job was performed at a minimum cost.

The interior, however, has suffered considerably and the lack of fresh paint is woefully needed. Since the walls are of wood ceiling the boards have shrunk and unsightly cracks are in evidence, particularly overhead. The plans include covering the overhead ceiling with Celotex board and as a whole the interior will be renovated and certain changes affected, according to plans, drawings and specifications that are being discussed in part and the balance definitely decided. This work, it is said, will be started as early as possible and will meet with all lovers of civic enterprise and in the interest of the fitness of things.

The City Hall represents the dignity of our city, a symbol, as it were, of the majesty of our local government and it is well the building be not only restored to its proper dress and appearance but subject to improvements.

Our city is progressive, prosperous and one cannot but hail with delight to note the removal of much that is antiquated and passe and the idea of modernity prevail in the work of replacement.

We are very proud of our administration and its business-like success. We will dwell in jubilation to note the transition from the old and obsolete to the new and useful.

LIBRARY ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. J. Roland Weston President—Miss Louise Crawford Re-Elected Secty.

A meeting of the Library board of the Hancock County Free Library was held Tuesday morning, March 9, for election of officers. The following were selected: Mrs. J. R. Weston, president; Mrs. A. T. Terry, vice-president, and Miss Louise Crawford, re-elected as secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Carl Marshall, president of the Board since its origin, has been a splendid leader.

During the latter part of last week, two new book cases were built, the labor supplied by the City and the lumber by the county. The City also gave several cans of paint to the library with which the floors of the two library rooms have been re-painted.

"Bread into Roses," the latest book by Kathleen Norris, has been added to the pay shelves.

Books purchased from the Bay St. Louis High School book list were: "Mill on the Floss," by George Eliott, "Old Wives Tale," by Arnold Bennett, and "Red Badge of Courage," by Stephen Crane.

Mr. H. D. Elliott gave to the library two well-known novels: "Come and Get It," by Edna Ferber and "Broome Stages," by Clemence Dane.

STATE HEAD TO VISIT BAY.

Mrs. K. W. Woolwine, present State president King's Daughters, residing at Yazoo City, will visit Bay St. Louis on the afternoon of next Wednesday, March 17, and a reception will be held in the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pitcher, on North Beach Boulevard, to meet the lovely and distinguished visitor. All members of local King's Daughters and Sons and other friends are invited and urged to meet the State head of this organization and to participate in the interesting evening promised at the Pitcher park and gardens.

Gulfport, Miss., March 8.—Old oaks, yards with azaleas and other flowers, Beauvoir, where Jefferson Davis and members of his family lived, memorial windows in the Church of the Redeemer at Biloxi, the grounds at the Gulf Coast Military academy, Gulf Park College, the Veterans' hospital and the Soldiers' Home at Biloxi, as well as many private yards, stood out as the bright spots in the Mississippi Coast spring fiesta, which opened Sunday supplementary to the New Orleans spring fiesta scheduled Wednesday.

The cavalcade which formed Sunday with a large representation of cars with foreign licenses went from one point of interest to another. Many of those in the procession of cars were newcomers to the coast and attractions visited held a strong appeal for them.

The dress parade at the Gulf Coast Military academy during the afternoon was witnessed by one of the largest crowds this season with cars parked two and three deep around the parade field. Scores of automobiles also drove through the grounds of the Veterans' hospital and Gulf Park College.

The arrows led many of the visitors to the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Williams at Long Beach, where the spacious grounds abound with azaleas. Here tea was served. Other beauty spots visited at Long Beach were the municipal rose garden sponsored by the Long Beach Garden Club and the garden of Mrs. Louis Lang.

At Pass Christian attention was directed to the Lockett home occupied by President Woodrow Wilson during his sojourn on the Mississippi Coast; Beach Hurst, where the motion picture, "Come Out of the Kitchen," was made with Margaret Clark as the star; the summer home of Dorothy Dix, Inn-by-the-Sea, McDonald Oaks and the Hecht Japanese Gardens and historic camellia bushes. The arrows led on to Bay St. Louis, to the gardens of Mrs. George E. Pitcher and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau.

Itinerary was featured by a ride to Ship Island on the Cavalier, Fort Massachusetts, now converted into a resort by the American Legion, aroused the interest of those who visited it for the first time.

Other events were golf tournaments and the opening of the Gulf Coast Art Association's Exhibit at Gulf Park College. The climax was reached Tuesday night with a Southern plantation dinner at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel followed by a dance.

Closing events Tuesday included golf tournaments at Gulf Hills and the Biloxi Country Club, and teas at the McDonald Oaks at Pass Christian and on the Gulf Park college campus, with the Long Beach Garden Club as hostess. Mrs. R. M. Shearer, president of the Gulfport Garden Club, was general chairman of the spring fiesta.

Soil Conservation Meeting To Be Held Saturday, March 13.

J. A. Bozeman, county agent, wishes to call to the attention of all farmers a very important County-wide Soil Conservation Meeting, on March 13th, at 9:30 A. M. at Court House, in Bay St. Louis. The main purpose of this meeting is to elect county and community committeemen whose job it will be to assist in administering the 1937 Soil Conservation Program.

Every farmer who signed up in 1937, are eligible members of the County Soil Conservation Association. Each member of the Association is entitled to vote in the election of the committeemen. Mr. Bozeman wishes to emphasize that this Soil Conservation Program is the Farmers Program, therefore, each farmer should who expects to cooperate with the program, therefore, each farmer should be virtually concerned in the election of their own committeemen.

LEAGUE OF THE METHODIST CHURCH

Following a business meeting of the Young Peoples League of the First Methodist church, held March 5, the regular meeting was held the following Sunday, opened and closed with the ceremony of prayer and the singing of a number of hymns was a noted feature. A program of informal talks, recitals, etc., proved of absorbing interest. The League expresses the wish for a speedy recovery of all who might be sick at this time.

OIL FROM OVERHEAD IN PEARL RIVER COUNTY.

JUDGING from many recent sales of land in Pearl River county, adjacent to the town of Picayune, formerly Hancock county, planting of tung trees is going to be carried on in a manner that will surpass the fondest dreams of the most sanguine booster of the tung oil industry.

Thousands of cut-over pine lands, suited for successful growth of tung trees and of such peculiar fertility to produce the nut from which the varnish oil made therefrom results, has been planted—thousands of acres since the first trees blossomed and produced and since then every year at planting time this particular acreage increases.

Just now many sales of land are reported. Investors and others from away are planting vast orchards and expect to reap remunerative results from their labors.

That sufficient crop is ready to crush the nut into commercial paying proportions is best attested to by the fact that, according to a press telegram during the week from Picayune, says that machinery is being installed in Lamar Rowland's tung crushing plant, located five miles west of McNeil-Henley Field highway, and operations are expected to be under way on or about March 15. Mr. Rowland advises, the message further says, that he is now in a position to buy any quantity of tung nuts and is offering a price of $30 per ton. He has already about 20 or more tons to be crushed in addition to a large tonnage produced by trees from his 10,000-acre grove, which is the largest individually owned tung grove in the world.

Aside from the product of the trees manufactured into a commercial selling element increased value of piney woods land must not be lost sight of.

We of Hancock, Pearl River, Lamar and other counties have been drilling for oil; enormous expenditures proven naught. However, this, we are told, must not prove discouraging.

But it appears to The Echo we are looking in the wrong direction for oil. Instead of seeking below the earth oil is above—growing on trees so to speak.

Tung oil originates from China and other sections of the orient. An oil and varnish produced therefrom is of the finest quality and sells at fancy prices. Heretofore we have been purchasing from the other side of the globe. In the immediate future we will grow our own trees and manufacture and buy and sell our own home-manufactured tung oil, as the case may be.

We are possibly looking in the wrong direction for the oil boom. It might not be below soil. It seems to be overhead.

L. & N. RAILROAD EQUIPMENT.

RECENTLY a report from headquarters at Louisville announced the intention of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company to improve its rolling stock to an appreciable extent. Many contemplated improvements were announced at the time. The purchase of new rolling stock, both passenger and freight were specified.

Of more interest, however, with the hot weather in the immediate offing, is the project of air conditioning, more so than ever. Practically every train will carry air-conditioned coaches. We imply from this increased patronage will follow to say nothing of added comfort patrons will enjoy during the heated term.

It is a far cry from traveling by train where it is necessary to open windows admitting not only the hot summer atmosphere from without, but dust and a certain amount of grime, regardless of screen and quality of coal consumed.

Air conditioned cars is a long stride. It means for better comfort, better health and supplies an ameliorated condition and general satisfaction that nothing else will take its place.

The old must make way for the new. Antiquated equipment must be supplanted by the new. Times change and people change with the times.

We are living in the streamline age. And the time is not far distant when major railroads of the country will be operating streamline trains as their regular equipment.

Standing still is going backward. However, in the meantime, we anxiously await the new air-conditioned coaches on the L. & N. One can always depend on the enterprise of the "Old Reliable."

POTENTIAL WORKERS FOR THE COAST.

THERE is every reason to believe the Spring Fiesta, originated at New Orleans this year, with the Mississippi Gulf Coast included as an integral part of the itinerary, will go over bigger next year, with the present experience as a guide for the future.

We have every abiding faith in such civic wizards as Warren Jackson and many others who are prime factors for the Coast. They are potentially boosters from the most unselfish motives and are workers for this section year in and year out.

All eyes are turned to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Investors, homeseekers and visitors are interested.

SPRINGTIME FIESTA ON THE COAST.

IN connection and as part of the New Orleans Spring Fiesta, the Mississippi Gulf Coast tour itinerary, termed the Live Oak Trail, with women's and garden Clubs co-operating, offers not only an unparalleled means of contact of the Coast with the outside but a medium of advertising that will prove of inestimable value.

This gesture of visiting interesting points of the Mississippi Gulf Coast annually by men and women from away attending the New Orleans Fiesta, which concludes with a pilgrimage to historic Natchez, is one of vital meaning and merits the plaudits of approval from every friend and well thinking resident of the Coast.

We have been rather timid in the matter of selling the Coast to others. Apparently we have lacked confidence in the things we have to offer. It is a poor salesman, indeed, who has no confidence in his own product. Failing to believe therein he cannot convince others to give their abiding faith.

The Live Oak Trail visit started Sunday from Ocean Springs and Biloxi and concluded Tuesday in Bay St. Louis, where the two focal points (officially programmed at New Orleans) to be visited were the informal gardens of Mrs. George E. Pitcher and the unusual Nandini domestica collection of Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau.

The Inn-by-the-Sea, Spanish Mission style adapted to the Coast, was the last point visited at Pass Christian before reaching Bay St. Louis. A dinner, typical of the deep South, was given at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel Tuesday evening. Mississippi Gulf Coast has much to offer. Many points of historical interest and natural charm and we hail with anticipation for the future good.

YOU MIGHT SAVE YOUR OWN LIFE!

As a nation we continue to make records and set new highs in many statistical fields. Along the improved highways of the country we take pride in the modern automobiles that speed along to where we are going. Sometimes the end is death, or at least for about one hundred persons every day of the year in this land of enlightenment and chance-taking.

Figures released by the National Safety Council reveal that January, of this year, set an all-time high in the number of riders and pedestrians killed by automobiles. Exactly 3,050 reported fatalities put the month 200 deaths ahead of the former record, set in January, 1934.

The death list can be reduced. The fact has been established wherever officials, backed by public opinion, relentlessly pursue safety programs. As this includes law enforcement and adequate penalties the average American has a tendency to stress the "safety speeches" part of the drive and forget the rigorous part of the campaign to save human lives on the roads.

The Sea Coast Echo urges the people to organize a campaign for the enforcement of traffic regulations, with punishment for those who violate them, regardless of whom they may be. We do not, at this time, attempt to outline any set of traffic rules; these have been formulated by competent officials. What we urge is that officers be upheld in the strict enforcement of them. It is the way to save lives, and it may be, the way to save your own life.

FOR DOCTORS AND OTHERS.

DOCTORS in the United States, waging a fight against public health services, might be interested in a non-profit system of voluntary health insurance about to be tried out in three Canadian municipalities.

Citizens of this section, as well as other sections, might also be interested in the development of a system offering full medical service, including surgery, specialists' service and hospital attention when needed.

The Ontario Medical Association is supervising the scheme in Canada, providing sufficient money to incorporate a body of physicians and laymen to put the plan into execution. Arbitrary rates will be set at the beginning but future experience will dictate the subsequent premiums. Physicians and specialists will be paid on a fee-for-service basis but each contributor will be permitted to select his or her doctor and hospital.

We realize the debt that human beings owe the medical profession. Undoubtedly it is enormous, but there is another debt that the medical profession owes the public. It is to make available to the average citizen, at reasonable costs, the best modern skill and service. That the people of the nation will demand this minimum is apparent. They will get it either thru public health measures of through wise plans developed by medical men in their own interests as well as that of the public.

THE WEEKLY HOME NEWSPAPER.

ONE of the best and most complete weekly newspaper visiting The Echo is the Pascagoula Chronicle-Star, that serves its city and county in generous fulfillment of the weekly newspaper. Typically excellent in the role it lives. With one of the best front pages in the State, a local page second to none; an editorial page representing constructive endeavor and its general local coverage complete in every particular, with a most liberal advertising patronage to which it is entitled, forms the complete weekly newspaper.

No other paper can take the place of the home weekly newspaper. It fulfills a mission all its own. It is closer and dearest to the hearts of the city and county folk than any other newspaper, regardless of its size and metropolitan pretensions. The daily newspaper lives at best from twelve to twenty-four hours. The home weekly lives all the week; it is consulted from time to time, it is read by every member of the family and is a cherished institution of home. It seeks very little in return. Just adequate support to continue on. Talking about patronizing home industry, the weekly newspaper is entitled to first consideration.

John Sharp Williams, 3rd, is not only making a good record as an insurance commissioner, in ridding the state of unlicensed insurance companies and agents, but as chief fire marshal of the state, he is going after those guilty of arson. Twenty-two convictions have been secured since his term of office began in January, 1936, and he is prosecuting this work with diligence.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

LET'S CLOSE THE GAP

(Biloxi News)

MANY thousands from all sections flock to Mobile each year at this time to view the spectacle of its beautiful flowers. The city has actually become famous for this display. Natchez, also long ago has gained fame for its roses and other typical Southern blooms in its city in which the citizens take a great deal of pride. New Orleans, though years behind, is now able to encourage visitors to its city because of its new floral trail.

The Coast can follow these splendid examples through a united effort and by taking civic pride to cooperate in the beautification project being sponsored by Mayor Louis Braun and the various civic and garden clubs. The natural beauty of this section can be greatly enhanced and made more appealing by the planting and cultivation of flowers. The Coast is the connecting link between these two show places. It could easily be made part of the long trail which connects the Mobile and New Orleans gardens. With the natural beauty it possesses it can be made even more attractive than the other artificially created gardens.

Flowers create happiness and contentment wherever they are found. They are an asset to property and cities. We will enjoy them as well as those who visit us. A little effort and co-operation on the part of the citizens can transform this section into one of the flower gardens of the South. It is something worthwhile and something that can be universally enjoyed. We have seen the fruits of the examples set before us. We should follow their pattern.

UNSIGHTLY SIGNS.

(Jackson Daily News)

The Sea Coast Echo, published at Bay St. Louis, makes an earnest protest against the array of unsightly billboards, and other forms of outdoor advertising that assails the eyesight of travelers as they approach the Hancock-Harrison bridge across the shimmering waters of Bay St. Louis. The Echo says:

Not one of the Babel of advertisements cluttered in unsightly groups along the road is of benefit, we venture to say. Not one advertisement sells any of the products featured. The conglomerated group of advertising signs off the highway curve at Henderson Point is a nightmare. But the trouble with most situations of this kind resolves itself back to the old saying that what is everybody's business is nobody's business.

So there you are. What's true down on the Coast is true almost everywhere throughout the nation. Occasionally a spurt of civic pride is shown, but such spurts do not last long enough to accomplish the result desired. Roads of ingress and egress to nearly all cities look mostly the same.

Crusades against nuisances of all sorts is somewhat akin to kicking the family cat. Your kick rarely hits the object, but it does relieve the feelings—a little bit, anyway.

TUNG TREE TRACTS GET READY SALE IN PICAYUNE VICINITY

Pearl River Claims 80,000 Acres Planted Out of 100,000 in U. S.

Al Stross of Indian Harbor, Ind., who has been in Picayune several weeks inspecting land, has bought 100 acres of choice land for a tung oil grove and has contracted for immediate planting of the acreage. His property is located a few miles northwest of Picayune, according to S. G. Thigpen, president of the Picayune Chamber of Commerce and real estate dealer.

"Pearl River county had 48,000 acres planted in tung trees in 1935 and approximately 30,000 acres are being planted this planting season, giving this county alone an acreage of close to 80,000, out of a total of approximately 100,000 acres in the United States, Mr. Thigpen advised. He also announced that the tung crushing mill of Lamont Rowlands, tung oil king of Pearl River county, is now operating on his 10,000-acre tung grove a few miles northwest of Picayune on the McNeil-Henleyfield highway.

Circuit Court To Convene in Hancock Co. Monday Morning.

Spring term of circuit court for Hancock County will convene on Monday morning, with Judge Walter A. White on the bench and the usual district and county officers in their respective places. The docket is quite heavy with both criminal and civil cases and unless Judge White sees fit to speed up his court the proceedings will occupy considerable time. Clerk of the Courts A. G. Favre, as usual, has finished all preparations for the court and is ready to go and the same report comes from the sheriff's office. The term will bring many litigants, witnesses, members of the legal fraternity and others to the county seat next week.

GUARDIAN ANGEL.

(Neshoba Democrat)

BELIEVE it or not, but newspapers of the land today form one of the staunchest of champions of the preservation of the right of freedom of speech and thought.

For instance, Huey Long in Louisiana passed a heavy tax measure on newspapers simply as political retaliation.

The U. S. Supreme Court promptly declared the tax unconstitutional.

Newspapers hailed that decision, and rightly so. But many of these same newspapers are today defending the proposal to make drastic changes in this same Supreme Court.

If such reforms are carried to extremes, the day may come when the freedom of the press may be in serious jeopardy.

If such occurs, you will hear these same newspapers raising a howl to high heaven about "constitutional freedom of the press."

The U. S. Supreme Court stands today as the only guardian angel of the rights and liberties of our people.

ALF STONE TELLS IT.

(West Point Leader)

THE Louisville Journal credits its Hon. Alf Stone, chairman of the Mississippi Tax Commission, with this interesting story:

A man's wife was in the hospital. He called every day and inquired of the doctor as to her condition. "She's improved today."

He got the same report from the doctor for several days. Finally, one day he asked how she was getting along and the doctor informed him that she was dead.

He proceeded to throw a drunk. The bartender asked him why he was drinking so heavily. "My wife's dead," he said. The bartender asked the cause of her death, and he replied, "She died from improvements."

"LOVE ON THE RUN"

CO-STARS TEAM OF CRAWFORD-GABLE

Franchot Tone Heads Supporting Cast in Story of Newspaper Correspondent in Europe

Plenty of fun and romantic excitement is in store for A. & G. filmgoers this week with the coming of "Love on the Run," a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer smash hit co-starring Joan Crawford and Clark Gable with Franchot Tone featured at the head of a topnotch supporting cast.

Here are the highlights: "Love on the Run," teams Miss Crawford, Gable and Tone for the first time since their memorable success in "Dancing Lady." It is the production in which Miss Crawford and Gable, the popular favorites of "Forsaking All Others," "Chained" and "Possessed" celebrate their fifth anniversary co-starring appearance. It was directed by W. S. van Dyke of "San Francisco" fame.

The spirited, ultra-modern, comedy melodrama presents Miss Crawford as an American heiress who leaves a pompous nobleman at the altar and runs into Gable as she flees from the church right into trouble. Gable plays the foreign correspondent of a New York newspaper who bumps into the big gest scoop in headlines history. Tone is cast as Gable's rival who chases the two lovers in a mad dash over the map of Europe. Also prominent in the cast are Reginald Owen and Mona Barrie as deep-dyed villains who head a spy ring.

This brings the police into the picture. The reporter's rival puts his finger into a budding romance but "love wins on the run."

From the production angle there is much of interest; a thrilling plane sequence with a crack-up in a French farmhouse; settings of lavish splendor in England and France; a reproduction of Louis XIV's palace, Fontainebleau, and Madame de Maintenon's suite.

"Love on the Run," was produced by Joseph Mankiewicz whose first two efforts in the new field have given the screen "The Gorgeous Hussy" and "Fury." Interesting in the fact that Mankiewicz, as an ace M-G-M writer, wrote the screen adaptation of the last Gable-Crawford film, "Forsaking All Others."

MISS CORINNE CARVER DIES OF PNEUMONIA; BURIED SUNDAY P. M.

Was Victim of Pneumonia by Flu—Aged 41, Native of Bay St. Louis

Miss Corinne Carver, native Bay St. Louis, aged 41 years, died at the local hospital Saturday at 12 o'clock noon, taken to that institution from her home at an earlier hour that morning. She had been ill and was unaware of her condition until a physician was sent for. The news of her death was quite a surprise.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the late residence in St. Francis street, with interment at Cedar Rest cemetery. The body was taken to the church and the Rev. Leo F. Fahy, of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, conducting the ceremony.

Miss Carver was a daughter of the late Alice Carver, native of New Orleans, and the late Oscar Carver, native of Waveland. She is survived by one sister, Miss Vicky Carver and two brothers, Leo and Sylvester Carver, with whom she resided. Funeral was largely attended and much sorrow expressed for the bereaved sister and brothers, a most united family who lived for years at the old homestead. Many flowers in sympathy and in tribute to the memory of the deceased marked the last resting place.

Brother of Mrs. Gallup Dies at New Orleans; Funeral at Bay St. Louis

The body of William N. Caron, who died in New Orleans Sunday afternoon at 1:10 o'clock, was conveyed to Bay St. Louis Monday morning and from the L. & N. train funeral took place, with interment in Cedar Rest cemetery, the Rev. Leo F. Fahy conducting the funeral rites.

The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Wm. J. Gallup, resident of Bay St. Louis, also brother of Victor and Burwell Caron and the late Emile Caron, aged 60 years, native of New Orleans.

Other survivors are the widow who was Miss Marie Krebs before her marriage, and a son, Kenneth R. Caron, all of New Orleans.

The body was accompanied by relatives and friends and the last rites were attended by many, numerous and beautiful floral offerings mingled with many messages of sympathy.

Mr. Caron was well known at New Orleans, possessing a wide circle of friends and acquaintances and his death brings much sorrow to the many.
